A PRETTY JUNE MARRIAGE.

Anna L. Vanderslice-Final Exercises. [Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

Suffolk, Va., June 10.—A very pretty marriage took place at the Methodist parsonage at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. William E. Deaton, of Roanoke, (formerly of Petersburg.) and Miss Anna L. Vanderslice, second daughter of Rev. George C. Vanderslice, pastor of the Suffolk Methodist church. The wedding was quite private, only relatives and a limited number of immediate friends being present. After receiving the congratulations of their friends the bride and groom took the Norfolk and Western train at 4:32 o'clock for Richmond en roude to Washington and New York.

The final exercises of Suffolk Female In The final exercises of Suffolk Female Institute took place before a large audience at the City Hall last mght. The programme was varied and interesting, and was received with demonstrations of approval. The pupils of that popular institution have to-day been scattered to the several parts of the compass, and the venerable halls wear an air of sadness.

NANSEMOND SEMINARY.

To-night the commencement exercises of Nansemond Seminary took place at the Seminary hall on Bank street. Misses Annie O. Lawrence and Daisy Delear Nurney, of Suffolk, are the graduates. They and Misses Helen S. and Fannie L. Qumby rendered the evening's programme of four teen numbers. The leading features were a French essay and French recitations by Miss Lawrence, recitations and valedictory essay by Miss Nurney, and a violin duet by the Misses Quimby.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

CHASE CITY, VA., June 10.—The commencement exercises of the Southside Male Academy closed last night; beginning on Sunday evening with a sermon of splendid ability by Rev. R. W. Cridlin, of Burkeville, Va., on Monday with the salutatory address by Mr. C. P. Ryland, declamations and debate of the Omikron Alpha Pi Society, and closing with the valedictory by John Aubrey Newbill; and on last night the addresses before the literary society by Rev. Sterling J. Foster, presentations, promotions, and diplomas.

Large and brilliant audiences attended on each occasion, and the radiant smiles of fair ladies cheered the young men to surpassing eloquence, and the floral tributes from their admirers made the rostrum appear as if decorated for some festive occasion.

Various Propositions Acted On—Government Control of Telegraphs.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

Boston, June 10.—At to day's session of the International Typographical Union the proposition of the Committee on Law to admit the testimony of union men not members of the International Typographical Union when charges are made against members of local unions was non-concurred in.

The World's Fair at Chicago and the birds just lifting themselves above the housestops darted straight to their homes in the North. The distance is 300 miles in an air line. Last year the Empire City Flying Club homed some pigeons from this point, and aithough the wind was heavy against them they made the distance in nine hours. The best railroad time from here to New York in almost an air line is ten and a half hours.

RECEPTION AND OREMAN.

The World's Fair at Chicago did not seem to be in very much favor. Propositions to establish a paid commission to sit after the convention and providing for an industrial exhibit on the part of printers at the fair were defeated overwhelmingly.

The necessity for a closer union between the different branches of the trade was insisted upon by Mr. McGarvey, of the New York Stereotypers' Union, whose resolutions in favor of it were reported upon adversely by the Committee on Law, and a general debate on the subject followed.

The report of the committee was nonconcurred in.

RECEPTION AND GERMAN.

A very handsome reception and german was given last night at the lovely country home of Mr. John L. Maury, just beyond the University, in honor of Miss Mary

His sister was facing him at the head of the basement stairs. The rifle was pointed toward the girl, but its owner was not aware that it was loaded. It was suddenly discharged, the small bullet, not larger than a pea, striking the girl in the chin. It took a downward course, passing into the throat, lodging possibly in the windpipe.

Doctors Lewis Bosher and George Ben. Johnston were summoned, and up to a late hour last night the ball had not been extracted. While the little girl is danger-ously wounded there is hope for her recovery. She suffers with her throat and complains of pain in her right-shoulder blade. He brother is greatly distressed at the accident.

The Cotton Crop.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

Washington, D. C., June 10.—The report of the Statistician of the Department of Agriculture for June makes the acreage in cotton 97.7 per cent of the area of 1890 and the average condition 85.

The reduction of area is attributed in some districts to concerted contraction on account of low prices, but it is evident that it is mainly due to unfavorable conditions.

tions for planting and germination. The record of planting in the May report is quite accurately the history of the crop to the present time. Planting was delayed by early rains and drought in the latter half of April, followed by continued drought in May. Germination arrested, replanting active, defective stands corrected, are features of the record frequently and almost universally reported. These conditions were more general and controlling in Texas than in any other State.

State.

The areas, as compared with those of last year, are given as follows: Virginia, 96; North Carolina, 94; South Carolina, 96; Georgia, 95; Florida, 99; Alabama, 96; Mississippi, 95; Louisiana, 96; Texas, 105; Arkansas, 96; Tennessee, 95.

The general condition is lowest for June since 1874, though it is only a fraction lower than that of 1883 and 1889, the latter a year of good yield through favorable later conditions. The State averages of condition are: Virginia, 78; North Carolina, 75; South Carolina, 80; Georgia, 80; Florida, 90; Alabama, 89; Mississippi, 88; Louisiana, 88; Texas, 91; Arkansas, 89; Tennessee, 73.

The temperature of May was quite too loss for the state of the temperature of May was quite too

The temperature of May was quite too low for cotton, cool nights checking germination and retarding growth. Of course, these conditions make the crop late in development, in some places a few days, in others a week or two later than in seasons of early development.

There is frequent mention of bad stands, but constant replanting will reduce the vacancies to a minimum. Cultivation is necessarily late and the nelds are grassy, with the usual variatio's resulting from with the usual variatio's resulting from differences in soil, amount of replanting, and the relative programs and efficiency of plantation managers.

GOOD QUEEN VIC OUT WITH THE WHOLE BACCARAT CREW.

Probable Effect-More Condemnation of Wales. [By Angle-American cable to the Dispatch.]

LONDON, ENG., June 10 .- A precis of the court proceedings was telegraphed each night to the Queen, who is now at Balmoral Castle, in Scotland, and Her Majesty is said to have expressed her displeasure in such strong terms that Truth, of this city, asserts that it would not be surprised if the Court of Queen's Bench revelations were the cause of the Earl of Coventry's resigning his office as Master of Her Majesty's Buckhounds, or Chief of the Royal Hunt of Her Majesty's Household, for which of-fiee the Earl draws an annual salary of 7,500. OPENLQ ANGYY.

The Queen does not attempt to conceal the fact that she is angry with every one connected with the baccaret scandal, and the effects of the royal displeasure may yet be felt in several quarters. MORE METHODIST CENSURE.

At the Primitive Methodist Conference, now being held at Northampton, several of the speakers denounced the Prince of Wales for the share he took in the baccarat scandal.

In addition, some of the speakers urged that the Prince of Wales should not be allowed to succeed to the throne unless he abandons gambling. The Conference will consider to-morrow some resolutions upon

MORR PRESS COMMENT—" ROYALTY AT THE STARE.

London, Eng., June 16.—The Star to-day, under the heading of "Royalty at the Stake," says that the Prince of Wales is the male head of his race. The women of his house are virtuous, self-restrained, and reliant. The English people throughout the world want the men to be more like the women of this royal line; adding:

"This is a proud country, and the man who aspires to represent Englishmen must keep everything about him fresh and bright, and must be exceedingly jealous of his reputation, and must not be known as a baccarat-banker and as a specialist in gaming-counters."

The Pail.Mail Gaustie this afternoon strongly defends the Wilsons, whom the Gaustie declares took a "perfectly reasonable and honorable course."

The Gaustie adds: "They could not stop playing, as it was evident that the Prince came to the house to play baccarat and for nothing else. Nobody who gave due weight to the evidence could possibly come to any other conclusion than that Sir William Gordon-Cumming was guilty. Everybody knows that the tastes of the Prince and of the Prince's set are a little, if not exactly low, and that he prefers che to culture. It is absurd to stickle about the Prince playing baccarat when we give publicists carle blanche to blackguard."

NOT SUBE OF CUMMING'S GUILT. The St. James Gazette this afternoon says it is not sure of the positive guilt of Sir William Gordon-Cumming, who, it adds, will not go into retirement without the sympathy of many who remember that he served his country well. This is more than can be said of the vulgar parcenus, male and female, and of the self-indulgent fops. who set themselves to spy upon and hound him to ruin.

rowdiness, coarseness, and vulgarity of tone about society which has been stead-ily growing of late years. The refinement and distinction of the salons of a decay ago is vanishing, and amusements are becoming notsier, rougher, and more coarsely estentatious every year." A ATTACK ON WILLIAMS AND COVENTRY. The Globe this afternoon strongly attacks General Owen Williams and Lord Coventry, as officers of the highest rank and social position, for entering into a compact to permit Sir William Gordon compact to permit Sir William Gordon Cumming to mix with and to retain the respect of his fellow officers and of society when they fixedly believed him guilty of card-sharping. The Globe adds that they, with the Frince of Wales, seemed to prefer the most imprudent course, resulting in a scandal, of which it is impossible for the most tolerant to think without the deepest pain.

HER MAJESTY MAD. ADVICE TO NEGROES.

DR. PRICE TALKS IN FAVOR OF

THE SOUTHERN EXPOSITION. Outlook of the Colored People and How to Conduct Themselves.

The coloren people of Richmond held a mass-meeting last night at the True Reformers' Hall on Second street near Leigh.

Its object was to arouse the interest of the negroes in the Southern Exposition to be held in Raleigh during October and November, under the auspices of the Southern Interstate Immigration Association, and in which they have been specially invited to take part.

Rev. W. W. Browne, president of the Grand Fountain of True Reformers, presided. On the stage were seated the officers of that order and Dr. J. C. Price, commissioner-in-chief of the colored department of the Exposition, and J. E. Hamlin, supervisor.

DR. J. C. PRICE.

DR. J. C. PRICE.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. J. C. Price, is a colored man of splendid physique and a speaker of good delivery. He has little or none of the thickness of speech common to his race.

In beginning his remarks he explained the nature of the exposition and the invitation which had been extended them. To more fully explain his subject in all its bearings, he would go into a rapid review of the future at the negro.

There was no doubt, he said, that the colored race possessed all the elements of noble manhood and womanhood. To many the future seemed dark but to him it promised an era of general intelligence, which shall yet see harmonized relations between the races in the Southland. The colored people possessed the conditions to make them the greatest of nations. The star of empire has wended its way westward and thence southwardly. The power behina it all is the mastery of mind over matter which the colored man must possess if he hopes to keep up. hopes to keep up.

RACE CHARACTERISTICS.

It is his belief, continued the speaker, that the colored man has this mind power. For a long time it was said the negro had nosuch faculty. That he was thick-lipped, long-footed, with his ankle in the middle, making it impossible to tell except by the face whether he was coming towards a person or away from him except by his face.

When the teachers undertook after the emancipation to educate the negroes it was thought were on a fool's errand. To-day colored men stand in all professions. The schools North and South erected especially for the colored people bear evidence to the fact that the effort to educate them is successful, for if it was not these things would not be. BACE CHARACTERISTICS

COST OF EDUCATION OST OF EDUCATION.

It had been estimated that $25,000,000 had been sent from the North for the education of the negro, and that a like amount had been appropriated from the treasuries of the various southern States. This certairly indicated that the negro is getting to the point where he is showing himseif to be a man.

If the negro is to have a part in the fu ture he must be industrious.

Some days ago, Dr. Price continued he was talking to a white man who wanted to know if the colored people in the South were working any, for twenty-five years ago when he was down there in the Northern army most of the negroes seemed to be going around praying and helding meetings. He told his white friend that the colored people were only taking a short rest after working 250 years for their board and clothes. The negro had promised God that if he was freed he would rest awhile, and at that time he was only keeping his promise. The colored man had seen the master class setting around doing no-thing, so rest and freedom were the same thing in his mind.

Freedom means toil, industry, and labor.

The negro goes to work, not on basis of 40 scres and the mule, but on divided plantations for a portion of the crops.

It is not right to say all negroes are lazy because some are shiftless, or that all of them are thieves if one of them happens to have a polycken. If a white man stells a
